

of Congress. I will bet that this chart went into all kinds of envelopes and got spread all the way across America, and people opened it up and put it on their kitchen counter and stuck it up with magnets on the refrigerator and thought, What are they doing there in Washington, D.C.? We didn't send them there to grow a Big Government program. They rejected it. That was the end of the momentum of the Clinton Presidency then when HillaryCare went down.

Now we have ObamaCare, and the censoring of this—first of all, I want to make this point that I don't really need to show this chart and send it to my constituents. They already know what we're going into. They know that my vote on this and my effort on this thing are pretty well settled. I have said for years that I'm going to oppose any national health care plan.

No amount of logic is going to change the minds of the people over on this side of the aisle. They have come to a political conclusion, a conclusion that they're going to band together and they're going to pass something that President Obama will sign. He'll sign most anything as long as it says that it's got the public health plan in it. If it has the public health plan in it, it will starve out the private and we will have what almost all of them have said from the beginning.

They want a single-payer plan, a government plan. They don't believe in private health insurance. They don't believe in the best health care system of the world. They do believe in censoring, but the American people cannot be censored. We have Internet. We have Twitter. This kind of a chart can be forwarded all over this country, and by tomorrow morning it could be on every computer if the American people just decided they wanted to make sure that you could see it. You can't understand this health care program if you read the print, but if you look at this chart on your screen, you will pick up the phone, and the American people will be scared enough, I think, to jam the phone lines again in field offices.

I yield to the gentleman from Texas.

Mr. GOHMERT. I realize the gentleman's time is going to expire at 11:30, but I just wanted to finish. This is about freedom of life, pursuit of happiness. This is about freedom and life, and Mark Levin's book Liberty and Tyranny, he has got so many tremendous quotes, but I just wanted to make this final comment.

President Reagan—this quote's in the book—said "Freedom is never more than one generation away from extinction. We didn't pass it to our children in the bloodstream. It must be fought for, protected, and handed on for them to do the same, or one day we will spend our sunset years telling our children and our children's children what it was once like in the United States where men were free." That's why we're here fighting.

I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. KING of Iowa. When men were free. Reclaiming my time, and concluding. I want to conclude. However appropriate it was, the statement made by the gentleman from Texas, that when the President says if you like your health insurance plan, you can keep it, here is what the bill actually says.

Section 102, "By the end of the 5-year period, a group health plan must meet the minimum benefits required under section 121." That set qualified plan I talked about, no plan is going to be the same in 5 years as it is today. If you like your health insurance plan that you have, as John Shadegg said, get ready to lose it or rise up and defend your freedom.

With that, Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.
